Getting Around Fort Lauderdale

Fort Lauderdale is a relatively easy city to get around in. All you have to remember is:
CBS: Courts, Boulevards and Streets run east and west
TWA: Terraces, Ways and Avenues run north and south
The city is divided into four quadrants (northeast, northwest, southeast and southwest). The roads dissect the quadrants are Andrews Avenue running north and south and Broward Boulevard running east and west.
For example: 1243 NE 11th Ave is between 12th and 13th Street, north of Broward and east of Andrews.
The main highways include I-95 running north and south connecting Miami, Ft Lauderdale and the Palm Beaches. I-595 runs east and west from Port Everglades to the Everglades.
